SPECIFICATION SHEET · CORDLESS WALL LIGHT

The Tulip

Ribbed glass tulip, rechargeable, no wiring

A ribbed glass tulip with a scalloped rim on a curved polished brass arm. The bulb is rechargeable, so there is no wiring: two screws hold it to the wall, and a remote switches it on, dims it and sets a timer.

PLACEMENT GUIDE

Beside a bed	Centre it about 120–140 cm from the floor, one each side; with no cable, it goes exactly where you want it.
By a reading chair	About 30–40 cm above the head of the chair, so the light falls on the page.
Charging	Lift out the bulb to charge it, then put it back; the remote dims it and sets a timer to save charge.

INSTALLATION & CARE

- Cordless wall light: no electrician needed.
- Charge the bulb when the light dims; the remote timer saves charge.
- Clean the glass with a soft, slightly damp cloth once switched off and cool.
